Your request was answered and delivered electronically to this email box (as requested) on August 9, 2018. I then received an email from you on October 18, 2018 asking for an update. I responded that it was previously answered and electronically delivered on August 9th, 2018, but also resent the response at that time. I have now received yet another request for a status of that same request. Perhaps you'd like to provide a different email address where I can send the response? However, I'm hoping the third time is the charm. The response to your request is attached.

Sincerely,

Linda J. Alvers

On Oct. 18, 2018:
MuckRock News , DEPT MR 58313,

I am in receipt of your letter dated 17 September 2018, which arrived late yesterday through the U.S. Postal Service, wherein you request a status of your FOIA request, case number DON-NAVY-2018-009578.

I cannot explain the delay in your letter coming to the command, however, I suspect that our response to your request and your letter have crossed in the mail. We responded to your request on August 9, 2018. The response was delivered to your email box (the same one used for this email), as was preferred by you as stated in your request. However, I have provided it again in case it didn't make it to you the first time. Please acknowledge receipt when you get it.

I hope this email answers your question.

Sincerely,
